Welcome to Alchemy Moon

Alchemy Moon is a gathering place for Mystery Performers, Mind Readers, Magicians, Psychics and Sceptics. As well as for and generally interesting people.

Our aim is to have a home for serious discussion of the art and our passion.

How is it different to other forums?

First of all, it is a bullshit free zone.

- Everyone in the community will be treated with respect.
- Offensive or stupid posts will be deleted.
- Offensive and stupid people will not find anything of interest here.

Although there will be a small open forum to discuss with intellectual and critical freedom. The Moon will be content based. The forums aim is to take the thinking further, and compile the information gathered in a central library.

Alchemy Moon is aimed squarely at the creator and worker. It's aim is to bring together people who are actively developing the art. IT's aim is:

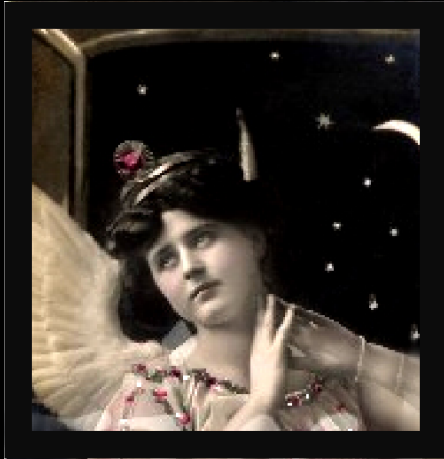

- To discuss and develop ideas .
- To promote creators work.
- To pool resources and help each other out.

At the same time, the Moon has an area for the interested performer, semi-pro and 'hobbyist'

The aim of this area is:

- To give further back-up and support to particular routines and products.
- To develop and add to existing routines and products in a broader forum.

Finally there is a open forum.. The aim of this is to bring the work of the creators to a wide a possible audience as possible. A secondary aim is to have a forum that is truly independent and free of intellectual censorship.

Will it work?

Who knows?

It all depends what people make of it, whether it is needed or is useful.

It will become what its users want it to be.

If it should exist, it will flourish.

If the time is not yet right, it will wither and die.

It really is up to you.

What is the plan?

To grow in a slow—organic manner.
To become what we need to become.

The first stage is already happening...

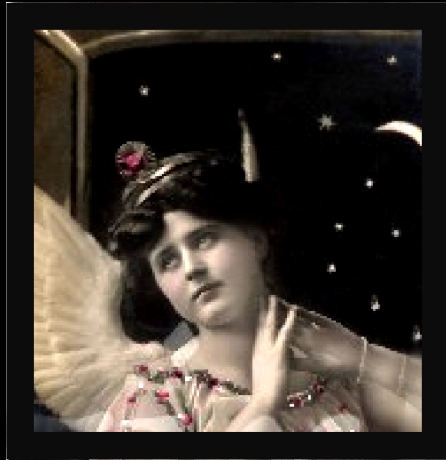

At the moment we are working behind the scenes to make sure everything is flowing smoothly for when our guests start arriving.

We will then slowly attract members to discuss and develop in the outer forums. We will also be putting up content and serious discussion points. Initially in the outer forums.

For the next phase we will start sending out emails to people whose work we respect in the art.

If you are reading this, this means you.

If you are reading this it means that we would very much like you to become involved. We value your contribution to the development of the art, and we are hoping to attract you to join others of like-mind.

Why do so few of the top performers and creators visit the existing forums?

This is a question we are seeking to answer.

What does joining Alchemy Moon entail?

There is absolutely no commitment. The aim is to not consume any of your time or resources. We strongly believe that the Moon should benefit you, never be a drain. If the Moon is of no use to you, you will either mould it into something that is of use, or do something more useful with your time—

No commitment.

The Moon is not a chatty forum that you feel that you have to visit every day. Rather, it is a place to visit occasionally; to meet old friends, to slowly develop ideas, to give or ask for help.

What is the overall aim of Alchemy Moon?

Alchemy Moon exists as a resource for those interested in the Mystery Arts. It exists solely for the benefit of its members. It is a gathering place for mystery performers, 'mentalists', bizzarists, psychics, and philosophers of the metaphysical.

The aim is not to produce yet another forum. Alchemy Moon will be 'content driven'.

This means that the main work of the Moon will not be seen in casual chat. It will be a slowly evolving repository of ideas and thought.

Alchemy Moon is aimed squarely at the working creator, performer and thinker.

Its overriding aim is to define the art and take it into its next phase.

What will it do?

Well that is up to its members. The original admins have ideas - but these will develop to suit the needs of those that join. These are the main functions we envision at this point.

- A message board aimed at positive discussion; a forum for advancement of the art.
- A message board that is independent of advertisers and the whims of the admins. We aim for true freedom of speech.
- A home for thematic discussion. There will be several themes set by the Moon's members. The aim of these themes is to invite constructive debate, to evolve a consensus and evolve the art.
- A home for discussion of particular principles and processes. The aim will be to take particular principles, such as 'one ahead', 'psychological forcing', hypnotism etc and discuss them. The purpose being to evolve and develop the principles through pooling intellect.
- A place to discuss and develop effects and other output released by Moon members. For example; I release a project I have been working on, a thread is then set up specifically for this item. All of the Moon members and all of the customers who have bought the item discuss and enrich it. This leads to excellent after sales care and extends and develops the item.
- A place to promote the work of the members of the Moon.
- A safe and positive environment for creators and performers. One area of the Moon will be invite only. It will consist of a small handful of active creators/performers/thinkers. In this environment we can all test and constructively comment on each other's work. There will also be the potential to refine, develop and add to the work.
- A Library and repository for the future.

How will this be achieved?

The forum will be split into three areas.

The Open Chapter.

This will be open to anyone. Here we will have the open discussions and news.

The Inner Chapter.

This is where we discuss principles of the art. It is also where we discuss specific work produced by Moon members. This forum will be closed. Admittance will be through merit, or to voluntary workers on the moon (admins etc.). The exception to this will be a pass to anyone who has bought an item from a Moon member, to the thread discussing that particular item.

The Hidden Chapter.

This will be open to only a handful of core members. Membership will only be granted to exceptional contributors to the art - and then only if there is unanimous agreement with existing members. Here the core members will discuss and evolve the work, and have access to the Alchemy Moon library (a digest of ideas and principles developed on the three phases of the Moon).

How is it different to other forums?

Firstly, it is not really a forum at all. We hope to live peaceably next to all of the existing forums.

Think of it as a research lab, a slowly developing library, a sharing of minds and resources.

It is not the place for lively discussion, or superficial banter. Sure, there is room for this in the outer forum - go and enjoy it! But the real purpose is the slow development of ideas.

It is not the sort of place you will want to visit every day. But a resource for you to slowly contribute to and take from.

The site is aimed squarely at creators, performers, and thinkers in the art.

But, there is plenty here for the hobbyist, the casual performer, and even the merely curious.

The Benefits. For the Developer.

Alchemy Moon is set up with the developer and performer in mind. There will be a developer's area formed on the Moon. Membership will be by invite only. Members will only be invited on a unanimous vote by the existing members. Membership numbers will be kept very low - to ensure confidentiality and to form an intimate, secure space. This area will develop according to the needs of its members. However here are some of the potential benefits.

1. The Creators Forum (closed membership)

- Somewhere where you can discuss with a close network of fellow creators Kick ideas around and develop new concepts.
- Somewhere to play test, refine and develop products (all work Developed in these discussions will remain the sole property of the originator, regardless of the input from other Moon members).
- Somewhere to contribute and help other creators.
- Somewhere to pool resources, skills exchange and networking.
- The development of a library of resources, concepts and ideas.
- Many other benefits, for example free advertising for all members.
- No commitments - there are no expectations on members. It will never be a drain on your resources (quite the opposite).

2. The Inner Forum

(membership by invite from the above group - and for people who have bought products from the above group).

- Opportunity to develop ideas in a broader forum of professional and semi-professional mystery performers.
- Opportunity to promote your work.
- Opportunity to intelligently discuss your work with your 'clients'.
- Use the forums to discuss and develop particular routines further. This adds value to your work and may develop into supplements and additional product.

3. The Outer Forum

(open to all who sign up)

- Discuss freely and without intellectual censorship.
- Be part of a positive community that outlaws bickering and stupidity.

Alchemy Moon is aimed at gathering intelligent people together, to take the art to new levels.

The Benefits

For the Semi-pro and the casual performer.

Alchemy Moon is aimed to be a place where interesting and intelligent people gather.

The site is aimed at the mystery performer and creator. As yet, we do not quite know what we mean by this rather fluid label. Personally, I am not in favor of fixing things down too much.

If we are involved in the 'mystery arts', mentalism, magic or psychic work, we are - let's face it - interesting people! Alchemy Moon will extend its gravitational pull to attract interesting and intelligent people here.

Here are some of the more defined benefits of getting involved.

1. The Outer forum (start here - open to all)

- This is the place to join intelligent debate on matters pertaining to our art. There will be no intellectual censorship, but we will censor stupidity and negativity. So this will be a positive and interesting site to contribute to and to digest.
- There is no 'forum-crack' here - this will be a slow burning development of ideas and
- debated points. So you will not feel obliged to visit and write every day. You can get on with the rest of your life too!
- This will be a place for serious debate regarding key issues in our art. The work we do here will be edited and compiled. The work will then reside in our library. So you will be part of a very real contribution to the development of the art.
- The inner Forum (membership on the basis of merit and contribution to the outer forum).

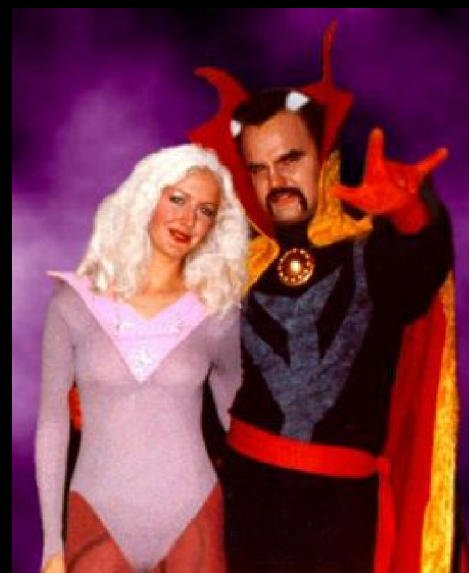

- Opportunity to debate and develop key concepts and principles of our art (as there is an issue with exposing valuable material, this will exist in this more restricted zone).
- Opportunity to take part in discussions and developments regarding products that you have bought. Giving additional value to your purchase.

Thank you for your time.

We hope that you will come and have a look on the Moon, like what you see, stay and help the movement grow.

If successful, the Moon will be an important force with a significant influence on the development of the art.

Be there!
